Re: Notice of Oral Ex Parte Presentation
RM-11685, RM-11697, IB Docket No. 13-213

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Pursuant to Section 1.1206 of the rules of the Federal Communications Commission,1 Iridium Constellation LLC (“Iridium”), by its counsel, hereby notifies the Commission that on May 28, 2015, Thomas D. Hickey, Chief Legal Officer of Iridium, Brandon Hinton of Exelis, Inc. and R. Michael Senkowski, Gregg L. Elias, Jennifer D. Hindin, and M. Ethan Lucarelli of Wiley Rein LLP, counsel to Iridium, met with the following International Bureau staff: Troy Tanner, Jose Albuquerque, Chip Fleming, Jennifer Gilsenan, Karl Kensinger, and Lynne Montgomery.

Also on May 28, 2015, Matt Desch, Chief Executive Officer and Thomas D. Hickey of Iridium, Brandon Hinton of Exelis, Inc. and R. Michael Senkowski and Gregg L. Elias of Wiley Rein met separately with Commissioner Jessica Rosenworcel and her legal advisor Priscilla Argeris; Louis Peraert, legal advisor to Commissioner Mignon Clyburn; Commissioner Ajit Pai and his chief of staff Matthew Berry and legal advisor Brendan Carr; and Commissioner Michael O’Rielly and his legal advisor Erin McGrath.

In the meetings, the participants discussed Iridium’s need and use for additional 1.6 GHz Big LEO MSS band spectrum resources—driven by subscriber growth, the pending launch of Iridium NEXT, and the introduction of higher-speed, higher-bandwidth data services—and its revised spectrum sharing proposal submitted April 17, 2015 in the above-referenced docket.2 In particular, Iridium explained that its revised proposal addresses all concerns raised by Globalstar and reiterated that there is no real-world evidence or analysis in the record demonstrating that Iridium’s proposal would cause any harm to Globalstar’s operations. Iridium stated that RAS considerations are being addressed in the context of its pending application for its second-generation satellite system Iridium NEXT. Iridium repeated its request that the Commission act promptly to grant Iridium the relief requested.

Respectfully Submitted,
