Dear Ms. Dortch:

I would like to respectfully urge you not to implement the rules suggested in the above mentioned proceedings, which would take away necessary freedom from the public. Restricting public freedoms will invariably lead to a lesser state, to the detriment of all people.

Of particular concern are the following liberties which must remain as such:

- The ability of users to install the software of their choosing on their computing devices.
- The ability to fix security issues in devices when manufacturers do not do so.
- The ability to experiment, invent and innovate in technology.

I appreciate you taking the time to consider my concerns.

Respectfully,

Javier Nualart Lee
