“Payola has been around for years. But it had to be kept under the table. If you legitimize "Payola" then it will grow and become its own 'industry'.

With the current state of "streaming" and royalty loss, payola is another barrier to creativity and innovation. The FCC should be protecting the individual artist, not padding the pockets of the vendors."