"Why must we keep fighting huge corporations this way? Why can't the independents of our country have their say, too? Please do not let this happen to another creative industry! America needs all the diversity, independent thinking and creative endeavors we can get. Independent musicians are entrepreneurs as well as artists. Please let them continue to tell their stories without needing to pass the conglomerate test of what should be heard by America. Thank you."