Reclassify The Internet As A Common Carrier.

The Internet was created with public funds for the use of the public and the government. No for-profit organization should have the right to control access from the people who need and use it.