Please add my name to consumers protesting any elimination of RFD TV from DirectTV’s or Dish basic service package after any merger proposals. Although I now live in an urban setting, I lived for >20 years in rural areas and remain in touch with my agricultural and cultural heritage via RFD TV, which I get through DirectTV’s basic service. The proposed removal of RFD TV from DirectTV’s or Dish basic package would be unnecessarily harm many people such as myself and would be an affront to all Americans living in rural areas who watch the network, to whom its programs are tailored.
