In a nation wracked by the very real pain of income inequality, abusive lobbying practices, and repugnant campaign finance law, to in any way compromise cloud born bastion of genuine equality would be a betrayal of the American people and a violation of human decency. Keep the internet just. Beware the slippery slope. Information is our most powerful tool in the struggle for social progress.

Thank you.