This is absolute insanity. What happened to the days when monopolies were broken up. Comcast is a terrible company and they are being rewarded. There is no reason why this should even be a question.

Here I looked up the antitrust laws for you (on the internet) -

United States antitrust law is a collection of federal and state government laws, which regulates the conduct and organization of business corporations, generally to promote fair competition for the benefit of consumers. The main statutes are the Sherman Act 1890, the Clayton Act 1914 and the Federal Trade Commission Act 1914. These Acts, first, restrict the formation of cartels and prohibit other collusive practices regarded as being in restraint of trade. Second, they restrict the mergers and acquisitions of organizations which could substantially lessen competition. Third, they prohibit the creation of a monopoly and the abuse of monopoly power.

You know this applies to Comcast in present state. Do not give these people more power! They are terrible.
