The 2012 Presidential Election was more expensive than the 2008 election thanks to the SCOTUS Citizens United ruling. We need more transparency. The FCC needs to strengthen its rules requiring disclosure of political files online to close loopholes allowing broadcasters to temporarily make their political files available online and then pull them from the Web. Also the rules need to be eventually extended to cover all broadcasters.