I have noticed that with the drop in the economy, the rich executives are still rich, the prices are still high, the companies are still getting their money to cover their asses; it's the consumer & the employee that suffers. At this point in time, I am disgusted to call myself an american and feel like I have no right to free speech & knowledge. The monopolies are taking over. We have lost our place as a leader in innovation & prosperity purely because it's about the rich getting richer.
