Proposed First Quarter 2002 Universal Service Contribution Factor

CC Docket No. 96-45

In this Public Notice, the Common Carrier Bureau announces the proposed universal service contribution factor for the first quarter of 2002.¹

Rules for Calculating the Contribution Factor

Contributions to the federal universal service support mechanisms are determined using a quarterly contribution factor calculated by the Commission. Under section 54.709 of the Commission's rules, the Commission shall calculate the quarterly contribution factor based on the ratio of total projected quarterly costs of the universal service support mechanisms to total end-user interstate and international telecommunications revenues.² On March 14, 2001, the Commission modified the contribution methodology to reduce the interval between the accrual of revenues and the assessment of universal service contributions based on those revenues.³ Specifically, the Commission reduced the interval from 12 months to an average interval of six months.⁴ The contribution factor for the first quarter of 2002 is based on this revised methodology.

USAC Projections of Demand and Administrative Expenses

Pursuant to section 54.709(a)(3) of the Commission's rules,⁵ the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) submitted the following projections of demand and

USAC Projections of Industry Revenues

USAC submitted estimated end-user telecommunications revenues for July through September 2001 based on information contained in the Third Quarter 2001 Telecommunications Reporting Worksheet (FCC Form 499-Q).⁷ The amount is as follows:

Total Interstate and International End-User Telecommunications Revenues from Third Quarter 2001: $20.450292 billion

Contribution Base

To determine the quarterly contribution base, we decrease the third quarter 2001 estimate of interstate and international end-user telecommunications revenues by one percent to account for uncollectible contributions.⁸ Accordingly, the quarterly contribution base for the first quarter

See also Federal Universal Service Support Mechanisms Fund Size Quarterly Contribution Base for the First Quarter 2002, available at <<http://www.universalservice.org/overview/filings>> (filed by USAC Nov. 30, 2001) (USAC Filing for First Quarter 2002 Contribution Base). USAC's projected demand and expenses for the high-cost universal service support mechanism include the additional demand and expenses resulting from the Commission's Order modifying the high-cost support mechanism for rural telephone companies. See USAC Filing for First Quarter 2002 Projections at 8. See also Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, Fourteenth Report and Order, Twenty-Second Order on Reconsideration, and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in CC Docket No. 96-45, and Multi-Association Group (MAG) Plan for Regulation of Interstate Services of Non-Price Cap Incumbent Local Exchange Carriers and Interexchange Carriers, Report and Order in CC Docket No. 00-256, 16 FCC Rcd. 11244 (rel. May 23, 2001) (detailing reforms to the high-cost support mechanism for rural telephone companies).

⁷ See USAC Filing for First Quarter 2002 Contribution Base at 4. The revenue base on which contributions are assessed in the first quarter of 2002 is derived from the revenues reported on the Third Quarter 2001 Telecommunications Reporting Worksheet. See id.

of 2002 is as follows:

Quarterly Contribution Base for Universal Service Support Mechanisms

Third Quarter 2001 Revenues - Uncollectibles

$20.450292 billion - 1%

$20.245789 billion

Proposed Contribution Factor

Using this quarterly contribution base, and the total program collection requirement from the table above, the proposed contribution factor for the first quarter of 2002 is as follows:

Contribution Factor for Universal Service Support Mechanisms

Total Program Collection / Quarterly Contribution Base

$1.378456 billion / $20.245789 billion

0.068086

If the Commission takes no action regarding the proposed contribution factor within the 14-day period following release of this Public Notice, the contribution factor shall be deemed approved by the Commission.⁹ USAC shall then use the contribution factor to calculate universal service contributions for the first quarter of 2002. USAC includes these amounts in invoices sent to contributors. Contribution payments are due on the dates shown on the invoice. Contributors will pay interest for each day for which the payments are late. Contributors failing to pay contributions in a timely fashion may be subject to the enforcement provisions of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and any other applicable law. In addition, contributors may be billed by USAC for reasonable costs of collecting overdue contributions.¹⁰
