ORDER AND NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Adopted: October 25, 2010

Released: October 26, 2010

By the Chief, Spectrum Enforcement Division, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture (“NAL”), we find that IDT Telecom, Inc. (“IDT Telecom”), a reseller of digital wireless services,¹ apparently willfully violated the wireless handset hearing aid compatibility status report filing requirements set forth in Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Commission’s Rules (“Rules”)² and apparently willfully and repeatedly violated the public web site posting requirements set forth in Section 20.19(h) of the Rules.³ For these apparent violations, we propose a total forfeiture in the amount of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000). We also direct IDT Telecom to file the required wireless handset hearing aid compatibility status report within thirty (30) days of the release of this NAL.

II. BACKGROUND

2. In the 2003 Hearing Aid Compatibility Order, the Commission adopted several measures to enhance the ability of individuals with hearing disabilities to access digital wireless telecommunications.⁴ The Commission established technical standards that digital wireless handsets must meet to be considered compatible with hearing aids operating in acoustic coupling and inductive coupling (telecoil) modes.⁵ The Commission further established, for each standard, deadlines by which manufacturers and service providers were required to offer specified numbers or percentages of digital wireless handsets per air interface⁶ that are compliant with the relevant standard if they did not come

³ 47 C.F.R. § 20.19(h).

⁵ See Hearing Aid Compatibility Order, 18 FCC Rcd at 16777 ¶ 56; 47 C.F.R. § 20.19(b)(1), (2).

⁶ The term “air interface” refers to the technical protocol that ensures compatibility between mobile radio service equipment, such as handsets, and the service provider’s base stations. Currently, the leading air interfaces include (continued ...)

under the de minimis exception.⁷ In February 2008, as part of a comprehensive reconsideration of the effectiveness of the hearing aid compatibility rules, the Commission released an order that, among other things, adopted new compatible handset deployment benchmarks beginning in 2008.⁸

3. Of primary relevance, the Commission also adopted reporting requirements to ensure that it could monitor the availability of these handsets and to provide valuable information to the public concerning the technical testing and commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible handsets, including on the Internet.⁹ The Commission initially required manufacturers and digital wireless service providers to report every six months on efforts toward compliance with the hearing aid compatibility requirements for the first three years of implementation (May 17, 2004, November 17, 2004, May 17, 2005, November 17, 2005, May 17, 2006 and November 17, 2006), and then annually thereafter through the fifth year of implementation (November 19, 2007 and November 17, 2008).¹⁰ In its 2008 Hearing Aid Compatibility First Report and Order, the Commission extended these reporting requirements with certain modifications on an open ended basis, beginning January 15, 2009.¹¹ The Commission also made clear that these reporting requirements apply to service providers that fit within the de minimis exception.¹² In addition, the Commission instituted a requirement that manufacturers and service providers with publicly-accessible web sites maintain a list of hearing aid-compatible handset models and provide certain information regarding those models on their websites.¹³ The web site postings, which must be updated within 30 days of a change in a manufacturer's or service provider's offerings, enable consumers to obtain up-to-date hearing aid compatibility information from their service providers.¹⁴

4. IDT Telecom, which provides prepaid cellular service under the TúYo Mobile brand, failed to file the required hearing aid compatibility status report for the period July 1, 2008 through December 31, 2008 (due January 15, 2009). The Wireless Telecommunications Bureau ("WTB") referred IDT Telecom's apparent violation of the reporting requirement to the Enforcement Bureau for possible enforcement action.

The de minimis exception provides that manufacturers or mobile service providers that offer two or fewer digital wireless handset models per air interface are exempt from the hearing aid compatibility deployment requirements, and manufacturers or mobile service providers that offer three digital wireless handset models per air interface must offer at least one compliant model. 47 C.F.R. § 20.19(e).

5. On November 23, 2009, the Enforcement Bureau's Spectrum Enforcement Division ("Division") issued a Letter of Inquiry ("LOI") to IDT Corporation,¹⁵ to which IDT Telecom responded on December 29, 2009.¹⁶ In its LOI Response, IDT Telecom admitted that it failed to submit the status report by January 15, 2009.¹⁷ IDT Telecom also stated that it would take necessary steps to come into compliance with the requirements of Sections 20.19(h) and (i)(1) of the Rules.¹⁸

III. DISCUSSION

A. Failure to File Timely Hearing Aid Compatibility Status Report

6. Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Rules requires service providers to submit hearing aid compatibility status reports on January 15, 2009 (covering the six month period ending December 31, 2008) and then annually thereafter.¹⁹ These reports are necessary to enable the Commission to perform its enforcement function and evaluate whether IDT Telecom is in compliance with Commission mandates that were adopted to facilitate the accessibility of hearing aid-compatible wireless handsets. These reports also provide valuable information to the public concerning the technical testing and commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible handsets. IDT Telecom admitted that it did not file the required hearing aid compatibility status report by January 15, 2009. Accordingly, we find that IDT Telecom failed to timely file the hearing aid compatibility status report due on January 15, 2009 in apparent willful²⁰ violation of the requirements set forth in Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Rules.²¹

B. Failure to Post Required Information Concerning Hearing Aid-Compatible Handset Models on its Public Web Site

7. Section 20.19(h) of the Rules requires that, beginning January 15, 2009, each manufacturer and service provider that operates a publicly-accessible web site make available on its web site a list of all hearing aid-compatible handset models currently offered, the ratings of those models, and an explanation of the rating system. Section 20.19(h) also requires service providers to post on their web sites the level of functionality of each model and an explanation of the service provider's methodology for designating levels of functionality. In addition, the Commission has stated that any changes to a manufacturer's or service provider's offerings must be reflected on its public web site listing within 30 days of the change.²² These web site postings provide consumers up-to-date hearing aid compatibility information.

8. IDT Telecom offers a number of prepaid wireless phones and plans under the TúYo Mobile brand on its publicly accessible website. IDT Telecom admitted that it failed to list on its web site all available hearing aid-compatible handset models, the ratings for those models, and an explanation of the rating system until after receipt of the Division's LOI. IDT Telecom also failed to specify the level of functionality for each model and provide an explanation of its methodology for designating levels of functionality on its web site. Accordingly, we find that IDT Corporation apparently willfully and repeatedly violated the web site posting requirements set forth in Section 20.19(h) of the Rules.

C. Proposed Forfeiture

9. Under Section 503(b)(1)(B) of the Act, any person who is determined by the Commission to have willfully or repeatedly failed to comply with any provision of the Act or any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission shall be liable to the United States for a forfeiture penalty.²³ To impose such a forfeiture penalty, the Commission must issue a notice of apparent liability and the person against whom such notice has been issued must have an opportunity to show, in writing, why no such forfeiture penalty should be imposed.²⁴ The Commission will then issue a forfeiture if it finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the person has violated the Act or a Commission rule.²⁵ Under this standard, we conclude that IDT Telecom is apparently liable for forfeiture for its failure to timely file the required hearing aid compatibility status report in apparent willful violation of Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Rules, and for its failure to post the required information regarding its hearing aid-compatible handsets on its web site in apparent willful and repeated violation of Section 20.19(h) of the Rules.

10. The Commission's Forfeiture Policy Statement and Section 1.80(b) of the Rules set a base forfeiture amount of $3,000 for the failure to file required forms or information.²⁶ While the base forfeiture guidelines lend some predictability to the forfeiture process, the Commission retains the discretion to depart from these guidelines and issue forfeitures on a case-by-case basis, under its general forfeiture authority contained in Section 503 of the Act.²⁷ In exercising such discretion, we are required to take into account "the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and such other matters as justice may require."²⁸

Base Amounts for Section 503 Forfeitures.

²⁷ See Forfeiture Policy Statement, 12 FCC Rcd at 17099 ¶ 22, 17101 ¶ 29. See also 47 C.F.R. § 1.80(b)(4) ("The Commission and its staff may use these guidelines in particular cases [and] retain the discretion to issue a higher or lower forfeiture than provided in the guidelines, to issue no forfeiture at all, or to apply alternative or additional sanctions as permitted by the statute.") (emphasis added).

11. We have exercised our discretion to set a higher base forfeiture amount for violations of the wireless hearing aid compatibility reporting requirements. In the American Samoa Telecommunications Authority NAL, we found that the status reports are essential to the implementation and enforcement of the hearing aid compatibility rules.²⁹ The Commission relies on these reports to provide consumers with information regarding the technical specifications and commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible digital wireless handsets and to hold the digital wireless industry accountable to the increasing number of hearing-impaired individuals.³⁰ We noted that when setting an $8,000 base forfeiture for violations of the hearing aid-compatible handset labeling requirements, the Commission emphasized that individuals with hearing impairments could only take advantage of critically important public safety benefits of digital wireless services if they had access to accurate information regarding hearing aid compatibility features of handsets.³¹ We also noted that the Commission has adjusted the base forfeiture upward when noncompliance with filing requirements interferes with the accurate administration and enforcement of Commission rules.³² Because the failure to file hearing aid compatibility status reports implicates similar public safety and enforcement concerns, we exercised our discretionary authority and established a base forfeiture amount of $6,000 for failure to file a hearing aid compatibility report.³³ Consistent with ASTCA, we believe the established $6,000 base forfeiture for violation of the hearing aid compatibility reporting requirement should apply here, for a proposed forfeiture of $6,000.

12. Failure to file these reports, as is the case here, can have an adverse impact on the Commission's ability to ensure the commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible digital wireless handsets, to the detriment of consumers. Furthermore, in ASTCA, we made clear that failure to file a hearing aid compatibility status report constitutes a continuing violation that continues until the violation is cured.³⁴ IDT Telecom's failure to file the report on time had an adverse impact on the Commission's ability to monitor and ensure the commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible digital wireless handsets. We do not believe that the circumstances presented warrant any downward adjustment of the proposed forfeiture amount. It is well established that a violator's lack of knowledge or erroneous beliefs are not a mitigating factor warranting a forfeiture reduction.³⁵ Accordingly, we propose a forfeiture of

$6,000 against IDT Telecom for apparently willfully failing to timely file its January 15, 2009 hearing aid compatibility status report in violation of Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Rules.³⁶

13. We have also recently exercised our discretion to set a higher base forfeiture amount for violation of the web posting requirements set forth in Section 20.19(h) of the Rules. In determining the appropriate forfeiture amount for violation of the web site information posting requirements, we noted that these requirements are “essential to the proper functioning of our hearing aid compatibility rules” and serve to increase the availability of up-to-date hearing aid compatibility information to consumers and service providers.³⁷ In particular, we found that the web site may be the primary means through which consumers obtain information, and that the updated information between status reports is likely to be critical to both consumers and service providers.³⁸ We further found that the web site postings, which must be updated within 30 days of a change in a manufacturer’s or service provider’s offerings, will enable consumers to obtain up-to-date hearing aid compatibility information from their service providers and will also enable service providers to readily obtain up-to-date information from their manufacturer suppliers.³⁹ Accordingly, we concluded that the same considerations that led us to increase the base forfeitures for hearing aid compatibility status reporting violations also apply to the requirement for web posting.⁴⁰ We therefore established $6,000 as the base forfeiture for violation of Section 20.19(h).⁴¹

14. As noted above, IDT Telecom acknowledged that in addition to its failure to identify which of its handset offerings were hearing aid-compatible, it also failed to provide information about the ratings of its hearing aid-compatible handset models or an explanation of the rating system on its web site, and did not specify the level of functionality for each model and provide an explanation of its methodology for designating levels of functionality on its web site. IDT Telecom presented no mitigating factors in its LOI Response justifying a downward adjustment to the $6,000 base forfeiture. Accordingly, we propose a forfeiture of $6,000 against IDT Telecom for apparently willfully and repeatedly⁴² failing to provide required information concerning its hearing aid-compatible handset models on its public web site in violation of Section 20.19(h) of the Rules.⁴³

15. Thus, we propose an aggregate forfeiture of $12,000 against IDT Telecom for its apparent willful violation of Section 20.19(i)(1) of the Rules and its apparent willful and repeated violation of Section 20.19(h) of the Rules.

16. Finally, as noted above, it appears that IDT Telecom still has not filed its hearing aid compatibility status report for the six-month period ending December 31, 2008, which was due on January 15, 2009. This report is necessary to enable the Commission to monitor the commercial availability of hearing aid-compatible handsets and to assess IDT Telecom's compliance with the hearing aid compatibility handset requirements during that period. We accordingly direct IDT Telecom to submit the report within thirty (30) days of the release of this NAL.
