CONSUMER & GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS BUREAU REMINDS MVPDs OF JULY 10, 2017 DEADLINE TO PASS THROUGH AUDIBLE EMERGENCY INFORMATION DURING LINEAR PROGRAMMING ON SECOND SCREEN DEVICES

MB Docket No. 12-107

By this Notice, the Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) reminds multichannel video programming distributors (MVPDs) of their upcoming obligation to pass through a secondary audio stream<sup>1</sup> containing audible emergency information, when they permit consumers to access linear programming on second screen devices over the MVPD's network as part of their MVPD services.<sup>2</sup> Providing emergency information aurally on the secondary audio stream enables viewers who are blind or visually impaired to access the same emergency information that is presented visually.<sup>3</sup> The compliance deadline for this requirement is July 10, 2017.<sup>4</sup>

Specifically, each MVPD must ensure that any application or plug-in that it provides to consumers to access linear programming (i.e., programming that is prescheduled by the MVPD)<sup>5</sup> on tablets, smartphones, laptops, and similar devices<sup>6</sup> over the MVPD's network as part of its MVPD services is capable of passing through an aural representation of the emergency information on a secondary audio stream.<sup>7</sup> For purposes of these rules, linear programming is accessed over the MVPD's

<sup>1</sup> A secondary audio stream is an audio channel, other than the main program audio channel, that is typically used for foreign language audio and video description. Accessible Emergency Information, and Apparatus Requirements for Emergency Information and Video Description, Second Report and Order and Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 30 FCC Rcd 5186, 5187, para. 1, n.2 (2015) (Accessible Emergency Information Second Report and Order).

network if it can only be received via a connection provided by the MVPD<sup>8</sup> using an MVPD-provided application or plug-in.<sup>9</sup> This is distinguishable from video programming provided over the Internet, which can be accessed by an MVPD subscriber using either an MVPD-provided connection, or a third-party Internet service provider or broadband connection.<sup>10</sup>

We also remind manufacturers that, since December 20, 2016, they have been required to provide a mechanism that is simple and easy to use, such as one that is reasonably comparable to a button, key, or icon, for activating the secondary audio stream to access audible emergency information on covered video devices.<sup>11</sup>
