STATEMENT OF FCC COMMISSIONER JESSICA ROSENWORCEL ON THE AWS-3 AUCTION

Today's conclusion of the AWS-3 auction demonstrates the extraordinary value of the airwaves all around us. Putting spectrum like this into the marketplace not only expands the possibilities for wireless services, it strengthens the new digital economy. In addition, the results of this auction will pave the way for improved public safety services, bringing new connectivity to our Nation's first responders. Kudos to those in both the public and private sector who worked to make this auction such a success.
