

Exhibit 1

This modification application for Station WK2XRF does not seek any changes to the technical parameters.

The only update is to advise the Commission that, in addition to the ongoing clinical trials described in prior filings, the program of experimentation under this license will now also include an additional clinical trial comparing active therapy to placebo to obtain additional clinical evidence to support claims.

This additional activity will be conducted without increasing the number of authorized units and will not require any other changes to the authorized parameters.
