1.6. Allowances for Interruption in Service

1.6.1. General

A credit allowance will be given for any period during which any line subscribed to by Customer hereunder is out of service, except as specified below. Out of service conditions are defined as complete loss of call origination and/or receipt capability. Credit allowances, if any, shall be deducted from the charges payable by Customer hereunder and shall be expressly indicated on the next bill to Customer. A credit allowance will be made when an interruption occurs because of a failure of any component furnished under this Tariff by Company.

An interruption period begins when the Customer reports a service to be interrupted and releases it for testing and repair. An interruption period ends when the service is operative. If the Customer reports the service to be inoperative but declines to release it for testing and repair it is considered to be impaired, but not interrupted. In such instances no credit shall be issued associated with impaired service.

For calculating credit allowances, every month is considered to have thirty (30) days. A credit allowance is applied on a pro rata basis against the rates specified hereunder and is dependent upon the length of the interruption. Only those services on the interrupted portion of the circuit will receive a credit.

1.6.2. Application of Credit Allowances

In case of an interruption to any service, allowance for the period of interruption, if not due to the negligence or other act or omission of the Customer, shall be as follows:

2.1. General

2.1.1. Description

Interstate access service is provided at company designated end offices whether routed directly or via Company designated tandem switches. For Interstate access service with SS7 signaling option, the CCSA signaling connection is provided to company designated STPs.

Interstate access service is provided as trunk side switching through the use of end office or access tandem switch trunk equipment. The switch trunk equipment may be provided with wink start, start-pulsing signals and answer and disconnect supervisory signaling, or without signaling when the SS7 signaling option is specified.

Interstate access service switching may be provided, at the Customer's option, with multifrequency address signaling or common channel signaling. With multifrequency address signaling, up to 12 digits of the called party number dialed by the Customer's end user using dual tone multifrequency or dial pulse address signals will be provided by Company equipment to the Customer's premises where the Switched Access Service terminates. Such address signals will be subject to the ordinary transmission capabilities of the Local Transport provided. With common channel signaling, up to 12 digits of the called party number dialed by the Customer's end user using dual tone multifrequency or dial pulse address signals will be provided by Company equipment to the Customer's designated premises via a Common Channel Signaling Access (CCSA) circuit.

The Company's facilities shall provide the necessary on-hook, off-hook, answer and disconnect supervision.

2.1. General (cont'd)

2.1.1. Description (cont'd)

When used to terminate Interstate calls at a Company End Office, Interstate access service switching may be used to access valid NXXs in the Company's LATA, time or weather announcement services of the Company, community information services of an information service provider, and other customers' services (by dialing the appropriate codes) when such services can be reached using valid NXX codes. When directly routed to an end office, only those valid NXX codes served by that end office may be accessed. When routed through an access tandem, only those valid NXX codes served by end offices subtending the access tandem may be accessed. Calls in the terminating direction will not be completed to 950-XXXX access codes, local operator assistance (0- and 0+), service codes (611 and 911 where available) and 101XXXX or equivalent carrier access codes.

The Company will establish a port or ports for the Customer at end offices or access tandem switches where Interstate access service switching is provided. When required by technical limitations, a separate port will be established for each type of Interstate access service switching arrangement provided. Different types of Interstate access service arrangements may be combined on a single port at the option of the Company.

2.3 Presubscription

Presubscription is the process by which End User customers may select and designate to the Company an Interexchange Carrier (IC) to access, without an access code, for interLATA calls. This IC is referred to as the End User's Primary Interexchange Carrier (PIC). The End User may select an IC that orders originating FGD Interexchange Access Service either to the Company's end office or to an authorized LEC's tandem that subtends the Company's end office.

New End Users who are served by offices equipped with FGD will be asked to presubscribe to one or more ICs for InterLATA, interstate service at the time they place an order with the Company for local service. They may select one of the following options at no charge:

- Designate a PIC for all of its lines,
- Designate a different PIC for each of its lines.
- Designate No PIC

Only one IC may be selected for each line or lines terminating in the same hunt group.

End Users may designate that they do not want to presubscribe to any IC. The end user must arrange this designation by directly notifying the Company's business office. This choice will require the end user to dial an access code (101XXXX) for all interstate calls.

2.3.2 Unauthorized PIC Change

If an IC requests a PIC change on behalf of a billed party (e.g., an End User or the designator of the PIC for a pay telephone), and the billed party subsequently denies requesting the change, and the IC is unable to substantiate the change as set forth in FCC rules; then:

- The billed party will be reassigned to its previously selected IC. No charge will apply to the billed party for this reassignment.

2.4 Chargeable Optional Features

800 Database Access Service is provided to all customers in conjunction with switched access service. When a 1+800+NXX-XXXX call is originated by an end user, the Company will utilize the SS7 network to query an 800 database to identify the Customer to whom the call will be delivered, and to provide vertical features based on the dialed digits. The call will then be routed to the identified Customer over switched access.

A Basic or Vertical Feature Query charge is assessed for each query launched to the 800 database. The Basic Query provides for the identification of the customer to whom the call will be delivered and includes area of service routing which allows routing of 800 calls by telephone companies to different interexchange carriers based on the Local Access Transport Area (LATA) in which the call originates. The Vertical Feature Query provides the same customer identification function in addition to vertical features which may include: (1) call validation, ensuring that call originate from subscribed service areas; (2) POTS translation of 800 numbers; (3) alternate POTS translation, which allows subscribers to vary the routing of 800 calls based on factors such as time of day, place of origin of the call, etc.; (4) multiple carrier routing, which allows subscribers to route to different carriers based on factors similar to those in (3).

Common Channel Signaling Access Service (CCSAS). This option allows the Customer to exchange signaling information for FGD call set up over a communications path which is separate from the message path. This service includes a dedicated 56 Kbps out-of-band signaling connection between the Customer's SPOI and the Company's STP. CCSAS is provisioned for two-way transmission of out-of-band signaling information.

Each CCSAS Signaling Connection provides for two-way digital transmission at a speed of 56 Kbps. The connection to the STP pair can be made from either the Customer's Signaling Point (SP) which requires a minimum of two 56 Kbps circuits or from the Customer's STP pair which requires a minimum of four 56 Kbps circuits. CCSAS Signaling Connection rates and charges are specified in Section 5 following.

2.5 Measurement of Access Minutes

Customer traffic to end offices will be measured (recorded or assumed) by the Company at end office switches. Originating and terminating calls will be measured to determine the basis for computing chargeable access minutes.

With Multifrequency Address Signaling, usage measurement begins when the originating entry switch receives the acknowledgement wink supervisory signal forwarded from the Customer's point of termination. For originating calls with SS7, usage measurement begins when either the Exit Message (EXM) or the Address Complete Message (ACM) is received.

The measurement of originating call usage ends when the entry switch receives disconnect supervision from either the originating end user's end office, indicating the originating end user has disconnected, or the customer's point of termination, whichever is recognized first by the entry switch. Originating 800 calls will receive the terminating rate.

For terminating calls, the measurement of access minutes begins when the terminating entry switch receives answer supervision from the terminating end user's end office, indicating the terminating end user has answered.

The measurement of terminating call usage ends when the terminating entry switch receives disconnect supervision from either the terminating end user's office, indicating the terminating end user has disconnected, or the customer's point of termination, whichever is recognized first by the entry switch.

Special Process for Measurement and Billing: The Company, at its option, will use the following measurement parameters where messages are delivered to the Company without sufficient information available for the Company to develop terminating access records in the normal manner. The Company will use Signaling System 7 (SS7) ISDN user part (ISUP) to determine the measurement times for a message for purposes of access billing. Specifically, the call will be deemed to begin for billing purposes with transmission of the Address Complete Message and the message will be deemed to be complete for billing purposes with transmission of the Release Complete Message.

2.6 Jurisdictional Reports

Where possible, the Company will determine the jurisdiction of both originating and terminating calls from the call detail records generated via the switched network, and bill usage according to such determination. A call that enters the Customer's network in a state different from the state in which the called station is located will be classified as interstate. A call that enters the Customer's network at a point within the same state as the state where the called station is located will be classified as intrastate.

In those cases where it is not possible for the Company to determine the jurisdiction of the call from the call detail, the Customer may provide the Company with a percent interstate use. The percent, which should be represented as a whole number, is determined by taking the total interstate usage and dividing by the total minutes of use. The Customer shall update the jurisdictional percentages reported to the Company on an annual basis by the first of January. Reports should be received no later than 15 days after the first of the month. Reports will be used on a go-forward basis, and will be in effect until the Customer submits a revised report. Customers beginning service in the middle of a year may submit a jurisdictional report at the onset of service.

In the absence of a Customer-provided percent interstate use, the following percentages will be used:

*800 traffic: 50% *900 traffic: 50% *700 traffic: 50%
All Other: Percent determined by measurable network usage.

The Company reserves the right to verify the percents on the jurisdictional reports by examination of the underlying data. The Company will submit a request for verification in writing to the Customer. Such a request will occur no more than once a year. Once the request is received, the Customer will have 30 days to supply or otherwise make available the data to the Company. If the Carrier fails to provide the requested information within thirty days, the Company is entitled to establish the PIU based on information available to it.
