Title to all facilities provided in accordance with this tariff remains in the Company, its agents, contractors or suppliers.

2.2 Prohibited Uses

- 2.2.1 The services the Company offers shall not be used for any unlawful purpose or for any use for which the end user or Customer has not obtained all required governmental approvals, authorization, licenses, consents and permits. (T)
- 2.2.2 The Company may require applicants for service who intend to use the Company's offering for resale and/or for shared use to file a letter with the Company confirming that their use of the Company's offerings complies with relevant laws and regulations, policies, orders, and decisions.
- 2.2.3 The Company may require an end user or Customer to immediately shut down its transmission if such transmission is causing interference to others. (T)
- 2.2.4 A Customer, joint user, or authorized user may not assign, or transfer in any manner, the service or any rights associated with the service without the written consent of the Company. The Company will permit a Customer to transfer its existing service to another entity if the existing Customer has paid all charges owed to the Company for regulated access services. Such a transfer will be treated as a disconnection of existing service and installation of new service, and non-recurring installation charges as stated in this tariff will apply.

SECTION 2- REGULATIONS, Continued2.3 Obligations of the Customer (cont'd)*2.3.3 Jurisdictional Report Requirements

A) In the cases of facilities and services provided under this tariff that may be used by the Customer to originate, transport, or terminate both intrastate and interstate interexchange communications traffic, the Company, where jurisdiction can be determined from the call detail, will bill usage-based charges at the applicable rates for intrastate and interstate traffic based on such call detail. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this tariff, in the cases of such facilities and services for which non-usage-based charges apply, or for which the Company cannot determine jurisdiction from call detail, the Company will assess applicable intrastate and interstate rates based on projected percentage of interstate use ("PIU"), determined as follows. When call detail is adequate to determine the appropriate jurisdiction of originating minutes, projected originating PIU will be developed on a monthly basis by end office trunk group by dividing the measured interstate originating minutes (the minutes where the calling number is in one state and the called number is in another state) by the total originating minutes. For terminating minutes, the Customer has the option to provide the Company with a projected PIU factor. Customers who provide a PIU factor shall supply the Company with a PIU for terminating minutes for each account to which the Customer may terminate traffic. Should the Customer not supply a terminating PIU Factor, PIU for terminating minutes will be deemed the same as the PIU for originating minutes. When a Customer orders direct connect switched access service, the Customer shall supply a projected originating PIU for each end office trunk group involved to be used in the event that originating call details are insufficient to determine the jurisdiction for originating access. This percentage shall be used by the Company as the projected PIU for such call detail. For purposes of developing the PIU, the Customer shall utilize the same considerations as those set forth in Section 2.3.3 B) following.

For purposes of assessing non-usage-based interstate rates, the Company will apportion the subject facilities and services between jurisdictions based on the weighted average of the originating and terminating PIUs.

If the Customer has no originating traffic or originating call detail is insufficient to determine the originating PIU, and the Customer has not supplied an originating PIU factor as provided herein, the Company will utilize an assumed PIU factor of 50% for billing originating minutes. If the Customer has not provided a terminating PIU, the Company will utilize an assumed PIU factor of 50% for billing terminating minutes. For originating Toll Free access minutes, where the call detail is insufficient to determine the jurisdiction of the call, the Company will utilize an assumed PIU factor of 50% for billing such access minutes. If the Customer subsequently provides a PIU factor, the Company will update the Customer's PIU factors, prospectively, within fifteen (15) business days.

- B) The Customer shall use actual call detail as the basis for developing projected PIUs. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this tariff: if sufficient call detail is not available, the Customer shall consider every call terminated to the Company that enters the Customer's network at a point within the same state as the state where the called station is located to be intrastate and every call originated by the Company that exits the Customer's network at a point in a state different from the state in which the calling station is located to be interstate; and the Customer shall consider every call terminated to the Company that enters the Customer's network at a point outside the state where the called station is located to be interstate and every call originated by the Company that exits the Customer's network at a point in the same state in which the calling station is located to be intrastate.

To safeguard its interests, the Company may require a Customer to make an advance payment before services and facilities are furnished. The advance payment will not exceed an amount up to two months of estimated monthly usage charges. In addition, where special construction is involved, the advance payment may also include an amount equal to the estimated non-recurring charges for the special construction and recurring charges (if any) for a period to be set between the Company and the Customer. If the amount of the deposit is insufficient to cover the balance due to the Customer's account, the Company retains the right to collect any amounts owing after the deposit has been applied plus any costs related to the collection of any remaining balance.

2.10 Application of Rates

The regulations set forth in this section govern the application of rates for services contained in other sections of this tariff.

2.10.1 Charges Based on Duration of Use

Customer traffic will either be measured (i.e., recorded or assumed) by the Company at end office switches or tandem switches or as reported to the Company by access service providers participating in the completion of such traffic. In the event Customer message detail is not available, the Company will estimate the volume of lost Customer minutes of use based on previously known values.

For originating access calls, usage measurement begins when the originating switch receives the first wink supervisory signal forwarded from the Customer's point of termination.

The measurement of originating call usage ends when the originating switch receives disconnect supervision from either the originating end user's end office, indicating the originating end user has disconnected, or the Customer's point of termination, whichever is recognized first by the switch.

For terminating access calls, the measurement of usage begins when the terminating switch receives answer supervision from the terminating end user's end office, indicating the terminating end user has answered. For terminating calls, the measured minutes are chargeable minutes. Where assumed minutes are used, the assumed minutes are the chargeable minutes.

The measurement of terminating call usage ends when the terminating switch receives disconnect supervision from either the terminating end user's end office, indicating the terminating end user has disconnected, or the Customer's point of termination, whichever is recognized first by the switch. (T)

Minutes of use or fractions thereof, the exact value of the fraction being a function of the switch technology where the measurement is made, are accumulated over the billing period for each end office, and are then rounded up to the nearest minute for each end office. (T)

2.10.2 Rates Based Upon Distance

Where the charges for service are specified based upon distance, the following rules apply:

2.10.3 Mileage

The mileage to be used to determine the Local Transport Facility monthly rates are calculated as the airline distance between the end points of the facility. The V&H coordinates method is used to determine mileage. This method is set forth in Section 2.10.2. (T)

The Local Transport Facility mileage rates are shown in Section 5.1.2. in terms of per mile per minute. To determine the rate to be billed, first compute the mileage. Should the calculation result in a fraction of a mile, always round up to the next whole mile before determining the mileage. Then multiply the mileage by the appropriate Local Transport Facility rate. The amount to be billed shall be the product of this calculation (i.e., the number of miles multiplied by the per mile rate) multiplied by the number of minutes. (T)

The applicability of particular rates is based on the locations (including any applicable zones) to or from which the Company provides Access Service. Such locations and zones are determined without reference to the physical locations of End Users, but, instead, are determined by reference to the locations of the Rate Centers that are associated, according to the LERG,¹ with the Central Office Codes of the telephone numbers used by or assigned to the involved End Users in connection with the Interexchange Communications for which the Company is providing Access Service. The rates that will be applied by the Company to Access Service provided for a particular location are determined by reference to the incumbent local exchange carrier ("ILEC") that serves the location (and the zones) as set forth in the National Exchange Carrier Tariff FCC No. 4 (the "NECA Tariff").
